PROVIDE PROMINENT & CLEAR LABELING OF IRRADIATED FOODS

Re: Need for Prominent Labeling of IRRADIATED FOODS
(Docket #98N-1038)

Dear Food & Drug Administration:

In answer to the FDA's current intention to reduce the obvious notice on food product's packaging label of its treatment by irradiation, or to obliterate its notice altogether:

- ☒ PLEASE PROVIDE PROMINENT & CLEAR LABELING of IRRADIATED FOODS
be displayed on food products;
- ☒ THE CONSUMER HAS A RIGHT TO PROMINENT & TRUTHFUL LABELING
that is not misleading.

We look to our government to institute programs that are fairly regulated in providing us with truthful food product labeling. Just as food preservatives are displayed on our food product labels, so should the consumer receive notification of the process of irradiation on the food product label. Although we are advised that irradiation of our food will diminish the need for preservatives, and will minimize the possibility of any irradiated food products carrying bacterial or viral infection, we are still unaware of its unforeseen effects to our health, or on the environment. We as consumers request the right to choose.

Sincerely,

Mary Copprell
